

Guidelines

1. Mentors are required to make bi-monthly phone contact with their mentees.
2. Mentees are free to contact the mentors by email or phone whenever they have a question that could be helped with by their mentor.
3. The match will last a year. If the matches would like to extend the relationship past this point, they are more than welcome to, but are not required

Goals

Create A Path

You've participated in contests from the age of eight. You showed at every level from your county fair to the National Junior Angus Show. You have friends from coast to coast. You may have your Gold Award in hand. Now what?

At or nearing the end of your NJAA career and looking toward your future? With many questions and looking for someone in your career field to turn to for answers? Enter the American Angus Auxiliary Mentor Program.

By supplying your school attended and major, along with your career goals, the Auxiliary will match a Mentor to help guide you to higher achievement and career success. Also asked, what you hope to achieve from the program. Based on supplied answers, matches are made based on careers, or on the desire to learn more about the Auxiliary and the programs it offers.

Your Success

Finding your way through school choice, majors, class study, and work can be a daunting task. While there are many resources to draw from, counselors, friends, family, few may see your full vision.

By drawing on the experience of women, involved in or with a history in agriculture, who share your same career goals and have "been there done that", you have another voice to help on your journey.

Join the Program to share your Vision with a professional who can offer a sounding board.
