Spring/Summer 2018

Thoughts from the President

Leslie Mindemann, Wisconsin
"Engaging, Empowering, Educating"

We are all excited to celebrate so much in 2018 – the 50th NJAS, 35th All American CAB Cook-off in conjunction with the 40th Anniversary of Certified Angus Beef and the 50th Anniversary of Miss American Angus. Growth through you, our members, has brought us to reach these milestones.

This spring has been busy for the American Angus Auxiliary, planning for several events. We hosted the 4th Women's Connected Conference, "Engaging Minds and Renewing Spirits", at the Elms Hotel in Excelsior Springs, MO, funded by the Angus Foundation. Bringing together women from nineteen states to meet, learn, and network, with the commonality of Angus. Presentors included Kelli Retallick, AGI; Ashley Grant, Ranch House Designs; Chef Alli Winter, Farm Fresh Kitchen and Debbie Lyons Blythe, Kids, Cows, & Grass blog; and Milford Jenkins, Angus Foundation. Thank you to all these wonderful speakers.

The Beef Committee has been busy putting together the iconic All-American CAB Cook-off for NJAS. We hope you have challenged your juniors to participate using our great CAB cuts. "Engage" as a volunteer to make it a smooth run. If you can help on July 9 contact Anne Patton Schubert or Anne Lampe. If you've never watched the show, mark your calendar, you are in for a treat.

On the radar is our Mid-Year Meeting and Social to be held July 10th during NJAS. "Don't Rub Me the Wrong Way" presented by Kara Lee, CAB, will provide insight and instruction on the best way to season meats. With hands-on activity provided by the Wisconsin Beef Council, you can prepare and take home your own custom rub seasoning. Since we're in Wisconsin, a must will be cheese & sausage sampling too. So, "Empower" yourself by networking, making new friends and reunite with old.

Just prior to our social, the Auxiliary will "Educate" you with our scholarship workshop talking about steps to keeping good records, attaining the NJAA Bronze and Silver awards, and how to prepare a winning scholarship application. Suited for all ages, this workshop will help set you up to avoid the headaches of crunch time when high school scholarship season rolls around. It's also good instruction for junior advisors and state scholarship chairs.

Being in my home state of Wisconsin, I can't wait to welcome you to America's Dairyland or the "Land of Angus" during NJAS week. We hope to "Engage, Empower, & Educate" you while "Living the Dream in 2018" as we celebrate all that is Angus. See you there!

From Your Regional Directors

Greetings from Region 1

Cara Ayres, Oregon

Hello from the Western Region, where the weather is tough, but our Angus cowgirls are tougher! Tougher yet will be the cattle and classes that congregate in Reno for the Western National Angus Futurity and the Western Regional Jr Show. If you've never traveled to the Reno show, put it on your calendar for next April. It's a super fun time, warm cattle people and a Western vibe you can't get anywhere else!

A piece of my heart will always be in Montana, and when I think about the year in review, I can't help but think about what a tough one so many Angus breeders have had there. From the devastating fires that blazed until the first snow, to the constant snow of Winter 2018. As your Auxiliary Director and your friend, I'm thinking about my Montana women and families braving the harsh environment.

In closing I'd like to thank Paulette Forman from Trinity Farms in Washington for generously serving 10 years as the Washington Angus Auxiliary President! Associations only stay alive and strong if there are people who are willing to put in time and dedication to others. Paulette is a busy woman who wears many hats and raises some really awesome cattle too! Paulette let me know her torch was handed to Joan Pellham, from Yacolt, Washington, who has been elected to serve as the new Washington Angus Auxiliary President. We embrace all western woman into our Auxiliary fold, please let me or your state president know of anyone who might be interested in joining, we would LOVE to have them on our team!

Region 3 Update

Karla Knapp, Iowa

Happy Spring from Region 3! At least we hope that Spring has arrived and that the snow has decided to stop flying by the time you receive your Auxiliary Post! This weather seems to be quite bi-polar this year!

Our Region, that includes the states of Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota & South Dakota would like to officially congratulate the state of Nebraska for forming the new Nebraska Angus Auxiliary!! These wonderful ladies have been working diligently to put together a great support system for both their youth & their Angus family. Way to go ladies!

Most of our states have been busy this winter with their annual banquets, fundraisers and new royalty selections. If you are looking for some great fundraising ideas, be sure to let me know. Our region has been doing some great raffles ranging anywhere from cattle vaccine boxes to cakes and quilts. There are some very talented women in our region that have some awesome ideas!

This spring our members have been selecting their state scholarship recipients. Their selections will qualify their state winners for our American Angus Auxiliary scholarships that will be awarded at NJAS in Wisconsin this year. The top 5 girls and top 5 boys last year were together awarded over $17,000! Be sure to encourage your state's juniors to complete their Bronze and Silver awards and send in their applications. Hard work by these juniors and their auxiliaries pays off!

Keep your eyes out for our third annual Full Circle Online Auction being held this September 26-27, 2018 hosted by Angus Live. There will be some great new consignments this year that will help support the Auxiliary's mission, including breed promotion, beef education, and youth development through programs, awards and scholarships. If you would still like to consign to our auction, please let us know, it's not too late. It's a great way to get involved & have some fun!

News from Region 5

Deanna Hofing, Indiana

Greetings from Region 5! Spring has been very confused on what wants to do this year. It is April and is still snowing here in Central Indiana. We are all anxiously waiting for green grass and flowers. The states of Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin have elected many new officers and royalty that I welcome with open arms. Each of these states have been working hard to not only increase their auxiliary memberships but also to raise scholarship funds for their Angus youth. Numerous juniors will have a positive impact due to your tireless efforts. Keep up the great work ladies!!

This year the Eastern Regional Junior Angus show will be held in Lima, Ohio from June 13-16. I want to encourage families to attend this great event, as it is truly a family affair. I fondly remember many eastern regionals my parents drove me to when I was a junior, I loved them!! During the ERJAS there will be a queen's reception on the evening of June 14. If you know that your state royalty will be going to Lima in June please reach out to Barb Dance, the president of the Ohio Angus Auxiliary and notify her. She and her committee are working hard to create a unique event for these ladies. Good luck to all that attend, show and compete in contests.

This year the 50th anniversary of the National Junior Angus Show (NJAS) is being held in Madison, Wisconsin. If you are planning on attending, please come to our Auxiliary meeting and social. This is the perfect time and place to become more involved with the American Angus Auxiliary. We have many committees that would benefit from your participation! Just let any one of the auxiliary regional directors or executive board know you are interested. Feel free to also stop by our Angus Gift Barn. There are many unique items to purchase for your family and friend.

Lastly, good luck to all the juniors participating in auxiliary sponsored events throughout the year. We look forward to your participation.

Look for reports from Regions 2, 4 & 6 in the fall issue of the Auxiliary Post

50 Years of Miss American Angus Celebrating

In 1968, the first National Angus Queen was crowned. Now, 50 years later, Miss American Angus continues to be an ambassador for the American Angus Auxiliary, American Angus Association and the agriculture community. This year, in conjunction with the Angus Convention in Columbus, Ohio, we will be commemorating the 50th Anniversary of Miss American Angus. We invite you to celebrate the profound contribution and impact of Miss American Angus through the decades. Please join us for the Auxiliary breakfast at the 2018 Angus Convention where we will honor the role and tradition of the title. Formal invitations to past Miss American Angus will be sent this fall.

Scholarship Workshop

Applying for scholarships is a "Process". Sincere applicants put significant time and effort into their applications. They recap their lives within a few pages, stressing their strong points and identifying their weakness only to show their willingness to grow. Progressive record keeping can start at a very early age and the culmination of those records is invaluable at scholarship time!

Come have fun in Madison, Wisconsin as the American Angus Auxiliary hosts a Scholarship Workshop at 3:00 pm on July 10, 2018 in the Exhibition Hall during the National Junior Angus Show. Learn how to help juniors turn in their Certificate of Achievements and apply for their Bronze and Silver Awards, needed for the Auxiliary Scholarships. This workshop will lead you towards scholarship success!

Miss American Angus

Kallie Knott, Indiana
2018 Miss American Angus

What a whirlwind of traveling it has been! Not only have I made my way to cattle shows, but to start off the spring (or continue winter) I have been in classrooms and at 4-H meetings educating our youth about the The Business Breed and the opportunities that come with it. I also have traveled to restaurants in order to learn about their views of the quality products they sell to their consumers as well as introducing them to Certified Angus Beef.

Being able to listen and educate the next generation about the agriculture industry has me thrilled to continue sharing my story and information about the Angus Breed. Recently, I met with the Jackson Crew 4-H club to discuss perseverance with their own 4-H projects. I was able to share my own stories about perseverance that have led me to the opportunity of representing Miss American Angus.

I also made my way in to Oak View Elementary to discuss my role as Miss American Angus to several awesome first-graders. We started off with a presentation about my travels, we read the book called, "Little Johnny Angus Goes to the Show," and ended the day with a snack while coloring pictures of Flat Andy. To follow up, I received several pictures of first graders eating beef with Flat Andy, as well as, hand written letters from students about their thoughts and experiences with Flat Andy.

During my trip to Florida, I visited the Black Angus Steakhouse where I ate a delicious meal and discussed the food products with the manager of the restaurant. Not only was I able to listen to his views about his restaurants products, but I also shared my knowledge about Certified Angus Beef. I been able to educate others, while becoming more knowledgeable about The Business Breed and Certified Angus Beef.

Starting off April, I traveled across the country to Reno, Nevada for the Western National Angus Futurity. I served as the judge of the Western States Queen Contest, while meeting amazing queens representing their states. I am very thankful for the queens that represented themselves, their states and the Angus breed, while assisting with awards in the ring. I also was able to meet a future Miss American Angus, Ms. Kirsten, who offered to help pass out awards during the shows as well. The weekend ended with a happy smile when seeing Mr. Tom Burke! My adventures as Miss American Angus have allowed me to meet many breeders and youth throughout the country, as well as, continuing to learn about the qualities of The Business Breed.

Beyond the Barn

Cortney Holshouser, Public Relations Chairman

With the 50th National Junior Angus Show right around the corner, I have been thinking about the many contests our Juniors participate in each year, both Auxiliary sponsored and otherwise. So much preparation goes into studying for the quiz bowl contest, working with their heifers for hours on end, practicing a speech and team sales pitch, or rehearsing a Cook Off skit. With increased opportunities come amazing accomplishments. Many times, however, Juniors don't take full advantage of being rewarded for these accomplishments. The American Angus Auxiliary Achievement Award is one great way to showcase a Junior's success. They will be recognized for their success in several different areas and will also be recognized in the Angus Journal. It is a great way to track all of your Junior's accomplishments through the years. This will be a tremendous help when filling out scholarship applications and other major awards. The Certificate of Achievement is issued to qualifying Juniors only for outstanding achievements at national, state and district (tri-county) levels. County-level achievements are not eligible. In a given year, a qualifying junior Angus member will receive one certificate, in recognition of their achievement record as reported during the year (from October 1st of the previous year to September 30th of the current year). Achievements that qualify: Champion or reserve champion bull, heifer, steer or cow-calf pair; division champion or reserve division champion bull, heifer, steer or cow-calf pair; awards in showmanship, judging, carcass classes, scholarship competitions, royalty competitions and all National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) recognized competitions, including those held at the National Junior Angus Show (NJAS). Gold, Silver and Bronze awards also qualify, as do leadership roles or positions that were held during that time. As Auxiliary members, we should all be encouraging Juniors in our individual states to apply for this award. It could be beneficial to do a quick tutorial about how to apply and the benefits of the award during a Junior meeting. The application can be found at <http://www.angusauxiliary.com/leadership/certificate-of-achievement.html> and can be printed and mailed in, or you may submit it via e-mail to Carol Bloom or Erica Styles.

Get Cooking at the 50th NJAS

Sign up by May 15 for the All-American CAB Cook-Off and Chef's Challenge hosted by the American Angus Auxiliary.

This year marks the 35th anniversary of the All-American Certified Angus Beef® Cook-Off, one of the most popular contests each year at the National Junior Angus Show (NJAS). The competition challenges juniors to prepare a beef-inspired dish and creatively present their meal to a panel of judges.

While there are plenty of laughs and fun during the daylong event, participants learn the importance of communicating about beef nutrition and the Certified Angus Beef® (CAB®) brand.

"We are looking forward to the 35th annual CAB Cook-Off at the National Junior Angus Show," says Anne Lampe, American Angus Auxiliary Cook-Off co-chair. "Every year we change up the beef cuts to challenge participants. We are continually impressed by the talent and enthusiasm our juniors bring to the table."

May 15 is the deadline to enter this year's event hosted July 9 in conjunction with the 2018 NJAS at the Alliant Energy Center in Madison, Wisconsin.

National Junior Angus Association (NJAA) members compete in state groups to develop a recipe and prepare it in one of the three meat categories: steaks, roasts and other beef items. Each group may consist of two to six individuals, and the age divisions are 8-13; 14-17; and 18-21.

The second portion of the Cook-Off involves a creative skit showcasing CAB.

"When developing your skit and recipe, the main goal is to promote Certified Angus Beef® to the consumer," Lampe said. "Be creative and have fun, but remember to incorporate the quality characteristics of our branded beef program."

Participating teams should do their homework and come equipped to answer a variety of questions. The CAB website hosts several different information sources and ideas for the Cook-Off, including carcass specifications, various cuts and cooking methods and degrees of doneness.

The Cook-Off involves a few rules junior members should consider when making their plans:

- All teams will use the same CAB product in their respective categories, no exceptions. Each category will receive the following beef cuts: sirloin flap, top sirloin and one pound of pre-cooked meatballs for the other category.
- No team may receive the CAB product until 9 a.m. on contest day. Please do not choose a recipe that requires overnight marinating or cooking time of more than four hours.
- Grills are strongly encouraged for preparation of beef.

Sound like fun? Adults attending the NJAS can also participate in their own type of cooking competition. The Chef's Challenge is an event open to both senior (18-21) NJAA members and adults, and participants showcase their skills using CAB and secret ingredients provided by the contest. Chef's Challenge pre-entry is also required by May 15.

Women Connected Returns to Missouri

The American Angus Auxiliary's biennial conference traveled to Excelsior Springs, MO, and the American Angus Association Headquarters April 18-20.

More than 32 women from 19 states gathered at the Elms Hotel in Excelsior Springs, Missouri, to network, learn and celebrate their love for the Angus breed during the American Angus Auxiliary's fourth biennial Women Connected Conference.

"The main goal of Women Connected is to provide for participants to network with other women who share that common bond of Angus cattle," said Women Connected Chair Anne Lampe, Scott City, Kansas. "In bringing these women together, we hope to educate them, help them engage with one another and empower them to meet their goals."

To kick off the conference, Lampe welcomed attendees to the Elms Hotel, where a tasty Certified Angus Beef®-sponsored dinner awaited them. Next, auxiliary member and cattlemaster, Cara Ayres, shared a live performance full of lively singing and dancing. The evening closed with hospitality hosted by American Angus Auxiliary President Leslie Mindemann.

Thursday, April 19 was filled with informational sessions. To start the morning, Milford Jenkins, Angus Foundation president, informed attendees about all that the Foundation does. Kelli Retallick, genetic services director at Angus Genetics Inc., spoke about breeding cattle for a better tomorrow. Then, Ashley Grant, chief marketing officer at Ranch House Designs, wrapped up morning sessions with a presentation about marking and promotion strategies. After lunch, Debbie Lyons Blythe and Chef Allie took the stage for their "Empower and Encourage" presentation, inspiring attendees to advocate for agriculture in the kitchen.

Attendees also had the opportunity to shop downtown Excelsior Springs before a group activity at Bliss. There, women networked while painting a keepsake to take home. Wrapping up in the evening, attendees gathered into four groups for animated round table discussions to recap the day.

Attendees visited the American Angus Association headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri on the final day of the conference. Women visited with Association staff and toured the offices.

The Women Connected Conference is funded by the Angus Foundation, and attendees are responsible only for their travel to and from the conference location. Women interested in attending must fill out an application to participate. The conference was first hosted in 2012 at the American Angus Association headquarters in Saint Joseph.

The next Women Connected Conference will be in 2020 in a location to be determined.

The American Angus Auxiliary consists of individuals interested in the welfare of the Angus breed. Its members work to provide educational activities for junior Angus members, such as scholarship programs, awards and competitions. For more information about the Auxiliary, visit www.angusauxiliary.com.

Harvey Rattey Sculptures

These beautiful sculptures, by Montana artist Harvey Rattey, make great show awards and gifts! The 'New Generation' and 'Miss Liberty' were pieces created for the American Angus Auxiliary. Several sculptures are shown on our website, Angusauxiliary.com, and others are available, so if you do not see what you are looking for, please contact us. A portion of all sales generated through the Auxiliary will benefit the Auxiliary Scholarship program. Contact Yvonne Hinman, hinmanangus@hotmail.com, for information and to place an order.
